Digitization of SAESI/IFSAC, NFPA Certificates

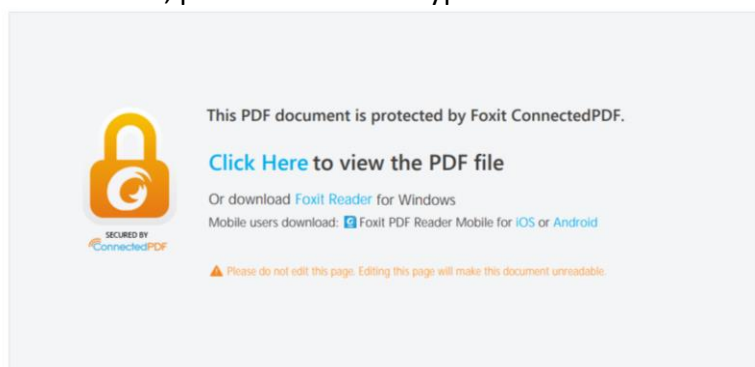

The Southern African Emergency Services Institute transitioned to Digital Certification, meaning an applicant will receive his/her certificates via Email or WhatsApp. This Certification will be sent as a secured, protected and encrypted PDF format “attachment”. You will have to go through a few security steps in order to open your certificate.

Each certificate recipient will have permission to only Read and Print the certificate;

Should you ask for permissions other than that given, your request will be denied. After your permission is granted you may proceed with opening your PDF format “attachment”.

Your secured, protected and encrypted PDF format “attachment” will look like the picture below.

Before attempting to open the PDF File, you will have to Save or Download the document. If you have received your email on your Desktop/Laptop you will have to choose the option “Save as” in order to have the document on your device. Should you have received the PDF format “attachment” on your Smartphone via email or WhatsApp, please open the PDF format “attachment”, go to Menu or Options and select the Save or Download option in order for the PDF format document to be on your Smartphone.

By “clicking” on the “Click Here” option, the following permissions will be asked in order to open the Certificates;

 Microsoft  LinkedIn

If you have a Foxit account, please login. Should you not have a Foxit account, you are able to use the details of the following of your accounts in order to access your certificates;

- Google account (@gmail.com)
- Microsoft Email account
- Facebook (Social Media) Account
- LinkedIn (Social Media) Account

Please select the account you want to use carefully. The account that you have chosen in order to open your certificates will be the only account that can be used for future references.

The applicant will be given permission to open the PDF format “attachment” on only 2 devices. First device will be the primary device that the PDF format “attachment” was sent to from SAESI. Second device will be the device that you forward this PDF format attachment” too.

Please “click” on the option “Choose File”. You will have to select the PDF File that is Saved or Downloaded onto your device. Your Certificate should open in a few seconds.
